Speak out 3RD EDITION

B2+
PROGRESS TEST 3 | Version A

Part A • Grammar, Vocabulary and How to …

GRAMMAR

1 Choose the correct options (a, b or c) to complete the sentences.

1 If I ___ my swimming costume this morning, I'd definitely be in the sea right now.
a packed b 've packed c 'd packed

2 We ___ in such a nice hotel now if we hadn't come across an amazing offer at the travel agency.
a wouldn't stay b wouldn't be staying c hadn't stayed

3 If he ___ me to the match, I'd be staying at home tonight.
a doesn't invite b hasn't invited c hadn't invited

4 If they weren't so nervous about driving in the dark, they ___ later the other night.
a might stay b might have stayed c had stayed

5 I wouldn't have ignored him if he ___ more friendly towards me.
a was b would be c have been

6 The children ___ to stand up when the teacher enters the room.
a taught b have taught c have been taught

7 We ___ any suspicious activity in the neighbourhood before the robbery.
a hadn't noticed b haven't noticed c hadn't been noticed

8 The airport's new runway will ___ by the middle of next year.
a be completing b have completed c have been completed

9 The dog was rescued after it had ___ trapped on the rocks.
a discovered b been discovered c been discovering 10 I'm afraid your file seems ___ from our computer system.

a to have been deleted b to have deleted c have been deleted

/10

2 Complete the second sentence so that it means the same as the first.

1 I had never seen so much traffic on the motorway before.
Never _____ so much traffic on the motorway.

2 You must not travel on the train without a valid ticket under any circumstances.
Under _____ on the train without a valid ticket.

3 He doesn't only paint, but he also writes poetry.
Not _____, but he also writes poetry.

4 You can only leave the exam room when the teacher says so.
Only when the teacher says so _____ the exam room.

5 They shouldn't expect you to do all the cleaning in any way.
In _____ you to do all the cleaning.

6 They might offer you a discount if you complain.
You _____ a discount if you complain.

7 It seems that your cousin has done the washing-up already.
The washing up seems _____ already by your cousin.

8 She hates it if her friends laugh at her.
She hates _____ at by her friends.

9 His greatest achievement was when they selected him as salesman of the year.
_____ as salesman of the year was his greatest achievement.

10 André had to go to court after he was caught speeding in his car.
_____ speeding in his car, André had to go court.

/10

VOCABULARY

3 Match the sentence beginnings (1–5) with the sentence endings (a–e).

1 Victor had a change of ___
2 She's going to sleep on ___ 3 He's always making decisions on ___ 4 Clara said she feels stuck ___
5 He's a great guy, but he won't go ___ a impulse instead of thinking things through.

b in a rut at work. She might look for a new job.
c heart and decided to stay at home tonight.
d outside his comfort zone.
e it and decide whether to take the job tomorrow.

/5

4 Choose the correct words to complete the sentences.

1 If the ecosystem / environmentalist isn't protected, many plant and animal species could be lost.
2 Some people pay a lot of money to hunt game / poaching for sport.
3 Scientists are observing the way these lizards reproduce / breeding in the wild.
4 Despite what people think, the shark isn't the most dangerous sea predator / predatory.
5 When a dog shakes itself after getting wet, it's displaying instinct / instinctive behaviour.

/5

© 2023 Pearson PHOTOCOPIABLE

5 Complete the sentences with words and phrases for algorithms and technology.

1 If we add this part to the computer it will be able to p _ _ _ _ _ s information more quickly.
2 By analysing lots of data, the computer can f _ _ _ _ _ _ t how the economy will behave in future.
3 If we don't enter the information correctly, the computer will m _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ e the figures.
4 The company has introduced a u _ _ _ _ _ d s _ _ _ _ m which everyone will work on.
5 The internet works w _ _ _ _ _ _ _ _ y here so there's no need for cables.

/5

6 Complete the sentences with the words and phrases in the box. There are three words or phrases you do not need.

in the right	into the wrong hands	mislead
mistakenly	presumed	slipped up
the assumption	the right track

1 I was late for the show because I _____ got on the wrong bus.
2 We didn't save a seat for you because we made _____ you weren't coming.
3 The champions _____ and the mistake cost them the match.
4 If this algorithm got _____, it would be a disaster.
5 We're definitely on _____ with this idea. Let's keep exploring it.

/5

HOW TO …

7 Choose the correct options (a, b or c) to complete the sentences.

1 This is a(n) ___ enterprise so we hope to make some money from the service.
a non-profit b commercial c appeal
2 The organisation ___ for the right of children to a decent education.
a advocates b emits c supports 3 Governments are meeting this week to discuss how to reduce ___ gases.
a fossil b greenhouse c toxin
4 A: We can't accept Paul being late for work any longer.
B: So ___ is we need to give him a warning.
a in other words b put it another way
c what you're saying
5 In ___, we have to find a long-term solution to the problem.
a brief b nutshell c recap
6 The old station is in ___ these days. It's a shame they let it fall apart like that.
a cracks b derelict c ruins
7 We need to replace the doors because the wood is ___.
a cosy b luxurious c rotten
8 It isn't reasonable to ___ me to tidy up the garden.
a accept b expect c offer
9 Maybe ___ to an arrangement about the bills.
a I can do b I can offer c we could come 10 That sounds like ___ to me.
a acceptable b a good compromise c happy with that

/10

Total: /50

© 2023 Pearson PHOTOCOPIABLE

Part B • Listening and Reading

LISTENING

1 [Audio PT3.01] Listen to a podcast in which Hannah and Ian discuss reforestation. Complete the notes with a number, word or short phrase.

1 Harvesting wood and _____ particular species of tree are two reasons why forests have been cut down.
2 One reforestation project took place in _____ in the late 20th century.
3 A line of trees _____ long was planted to stop the land becoming desert.
4 Trees are thought to consume _____ of the carbon dioxide emitted through human activity.
5 In the past, the majority of _____ would have been forests.
6 Reforestation is effective at creating _____ for threatened species.
7 Ian gives the example of a _____ reforestation project which operates out of the United States.
8 Local communities have a bigger _____ to make reforestation projects work if they are involved in them.
9 Some countries have doubts about reforesting land which could be used for _____ purposes.
10 A large forest fire in northern Spain was started by a _____.

/10

2 [Audio PT3.02] Listen to two waiters talking about things that have gone wrong in their restaurant. Number the topics (A–E) in the order they are mentioned.

A How a customer reacted to a mistake. ___
B A mistake which involved forgetting to put something away. ___
C Why it might be difficult to tell someone about a mistake. ___
D A mistake which involved not collecting enough money from customers. ___
E Why Cath was unable to rectify a mistake that she had made. ___

/5

3 [Audio PT3.02] Listen again. Are the statements True (T) or False (F)?

1 Before making a mistake, Jamie was feeling frustrated by the customers' behaviour. T / F
2 Cath agrees that Gino is likely to be very annoyed about Jamie's mistake. T / F
3 Cath explains how it was fortunate that the customer's wallet only contained cash. T / F
4 Cath felt ashamed of giving the man's jacket to someone else. T / F
5 Chef only realised that the meat was still outside after several hours had passed. T / F

/5

READING

4 Read the article about a life-changing decision. Match the interviewer's questions (A–E) with the paragraphs (1–5).

A How easy was it to convince the people around you that it was a good idea?
B What finally made you decide to leave your job?
C What would you advise people making similar decisions to do?
D How did that decision work out for you?
E What's the background to your life-changing decision?

/5

Life-changing decisions

Moira Shelley tells Hadley Johns about her decision to leave the job of her dreams to look after her children.

1 ___

Most people wouldn't think twice about accepting the job they'd always wanted. Having studied marketing at university, I was really excited to be offered the role of marketing director for a startup. However, having just had my second child, I was torn between staying at home with my baby daughter and taking my career to the next level. Although I wasn't happy about leaving her with a babysitter, I thought I'd regret it if I didn't take the job. As soon as I started working there, though, I began to have second thoughts. I immediately found myself working long hours and I'd get home feeling exhausted, usually just in time to say goodnight to the children. Not quite what I'd had in mind.

2 ___

As any working parent knows, balancing a job and childcare is not easy. That said, I've never been one to give up without a fight, so I swore to myself that I'd make it work. Then, a few months later, my daughter got sick and I wanted to be with her. It wasn't anything serious, but I thought she needed her mummy, so I asked if I could work from home until she recovered. It wasn't as if I'd even asked for time off, but my boss seemed suspicious of my motives. After being reminded about my responsibilities to the company, he said he couldn't 'permit' me to work remotely. Nice people skills. That was when I realised the company didn't value me enough and that my family meant more to me than my job. I couldn't stay there any longer.

3 ___

I was worried about how my husband would respond because he'd been pleased about the extra income. It made a big difference to our lives and it meant we could afford to go out every once in a while. Nevertheless, he was very understanding and he encouraged me to resign. What surprised me most was how my parents reacted. I couldn't really see how it would affect them, but they got very upset about me leaving. (Thanks for the support!) Looking back, they'd pressurised me a lot to get a good job when I was a student, so they must have been disappointed. However, when they could see I wasn't going to have a change of heart, they left me alone.

© 2023 Pearson PHOTOCOPIABLE

4 ___
It wasn't an easy decision to make because of my concerns about losing my salary and postponing my career. Now I've done it, though, I'm over the moon. Although we've got less money coming in, we don't have to employ a babysitter anymore, which saves us a fortune. It's a shame that I've had to put my career on hold for a while, but my family is my priority. Dealing with two young children is probably more challenging than anything I've had to deal with at work. However, if I hadn't left my job, I wouldn't be spending so much time with them now. They're not going to be children for long, so I want to make the most of it.

5 ___
The first thing I'd say is that it's not the sort of decision you should make on impulse. Leaving your job puts you in a dilemma because you usually have to sacrifice something, like your income or your career. For that reason, you need to assess all possible outcomes before reaching a decision. You might find that writing a list of pros and cons helps as well. Most importantly, you should then talk to your loved ones to get their opinion because it will affect them as well. Nevertheless, be prepared for unexpected resistance because, as I found out myself, some of your family may not be on board with it.

5 Read the article again. Choose the correct answer (A, B, C or D).

1 Moira found it hard
- A to stay at home with her baby daughter.
- B to complete her studies at university.
- C to find a job which interested her.
- D to decide whether to accept a job offer.

2 Moira was surprised
- A how easy it was to manage working and looking after her children.
- B at her boss's response to her request to work remotely.
- C about the responsibilities she was expected to take on at work.
- D that the company valued her as much as they did.

3 Moira thinks her parents were concerned about
- A her not being able to afford to go out.
- B her husband's lack of understanding.
- C her leaving what they thought was a good job.
- D her feeling upset after leaving her job.

4 Now Moira has left her job she feels
- A doubtful that it was a good idea.
- B pleased to have taken the decision.
- C worried about the loss of income.
- D ashamed to have put her career on hold.

5 Moira suggests
- A planning ahead before telling family members about a difficult decision you need to make.
- B not taking too long to reach a difficult decision such as leaving your job.
- C forgetting about your income if the career is important to you.
- D avoiding talking to family members who may not agree with your plans.

/10

6 Read an article in which three members of the same family talk about a social media app called Flip Flop. Tick the topics (1–6) which are mentioned.

1 Young people like Laura have few problems becoming accustomed to using new social media apps. ___
2 Laura describes a technique for making sure the content of social media apps matches her interests. ___
3 Douglas had been informed by colleagues that Flip Flop might be difficult to use. ___
4 Douglas would prefer to read an online newspaper than use the Flip Flop app. ___
5 Sheila thinks it is strange that her videos have been viewed in different places. ___
6 Sheila feels that she has got to know herself better after spending time on Flip Flop. ___

/6

Flip Flop
Three generations of the same family share their views on the new social media app which has been hitting the headlines.

Laura, 17, student
I didn't have any problems getting used to Flip Flop. People my age have grown up with social media apps like this, so it's instinctive to us. Not only is it straightforward to create videos, but there are also loads of cool tools for editing them. The filters, for instance, really bring out the colours in your videos. In terms of the videos, I was most inspired by the dance ones. If I were a good dancer, I might have made some of my own, but I'm not quite ready for that yet. It does make me want to learn how to dance properly, though. Apart from that, I was into the prank videos, where people play tricks on each other. Never before had I seen such a wide range of ridiculous clips on a social media app, and some of them were very amusing. I was careful to like the things that I wanted to see more of because algorithms tend to use your likes to determine the content you'll see. That said, some of the videos coming up in my feed were a bit off, like the beauty ones. I presume that happened because it knew I was a young woman, even though I'm not at all interested in that. About half the time it generated content I found interesting, which is no better than other social media apps.

© 2023 Pearson PHOTOCOPIABLE

Douglas, 46, advertising executive
I made the assumption it would be easy to get used to Flip Flop because some of my colleagues had already started using it. Nevertheless, it was harder than I thought. I didn't have any issues making videos, but I couldn't figure out how to edit them with text and graphics. If Laura hadn't shown me how to do it, I think I'd still be trying to edit my first video! The strange thing was that political videos kept appearing in my feed. On the whole, it was people with pretty unacceptable views, which rubbed me up the wrong way a bit. In no way was I going to keep watching them, so, instead, I found some good channels with recipes. Not only could you learn to cook new dishes, but you could do it in less than a minute! What I did find strange was how the algorithm seemed to miscalculate my interests, like the political videos. Maybe it knows I read an online newspaper, but I'm inclined to avoid the politics section. Only when I started searching for cooking videos did the algorithm begin to understand my interests, but even then it seemed to be more effective to search for videos myself.

Sheila, 74, retired
I thought Flip Flop would be far harder than it is, but there really isn't very much to it. Within a day or two I was making my own videos and getting likes from complete strangers. It's funny to think someone on the other side of the world is watching me showing off my dancing! Obviously, I enjoyed the dance videos and I even learnt some new moves. My favourite ones, though, were the so-called calming videos, which show things like rain falling on a lake or someone cutting into butter. They only last a few seconds, but they play on a loop so you can watch them over and over again. I found them very relaxing and sometimes I'd just listen to the sound. I imagine they'd be good for getting to sleep. What I never knew though is that algorithms dictate what we see on social media. If I'm honest, I'd never really thought about it so it feels strange knowing that an algorithm is in charge of what we see. Sometimes it seemed to know me better than I know myself. For example, one day I was thinking, 'I want to learn how to dance salsa,' and the next thing, all these salsa videos started appearing. It was as though it had read my thoughts. Scary!

7 Read the article again. Are the statements True (T) or False (F)?

1 Laura thinks the video creation tools on Flip Flop could be easier to use. T / F
2 The way the Flip Flop algorithm chose Laura's videos was slightly incorrect. T / F
3 Laura and Douglas have the same view about the ease-of-use of the Flip Flop app. T / F
4 Douglas denies that he needed Laura's help in using Flip Flop's editing tools. T / F
5 Douglas was annoyed about the behaviour of some people on Flip Flop. T / F
6 Douglas has a different opinion to Sheila about the effectiveness of the Flip Flop algorithm. T / F
7 Sheila did not expect Flip Flop to be anywhere near as easy to use. T / F
8 Sheila had always been curious about how social media algorithms work. T / F
9 Sheila and Laura were both able to learn a new skill from Flip Flop videos. T / F

/9

Total: /50

© 2023 Pearson PHOTOCOPIABLE

Part C • Speaking and Writing

SPEAKING

1 Describe and compare the pictures showing people with problems. How do you think the people are feeling?

/15

2 Answer your partner's question.

/5

3 Listen to your partner talk about their pictures. Ask: Which of these changes will make the biggest difference to their lives?

WRITING

4 Complete the sentences with the words and phrases in the box. There are three words or phrases you do not need.

congratulations	considerable disappointment
get a chance	look forward to	my frustration
see the attached	welcome	why don't we

1 I know you've recently arrived here so _____ to Amman!
2 I know you're not working much at the moment, so _____ meet for a coffee?
3 Please _____ invoice which shows that I have been charged twice.
4 I _____ hearing from you at your earliest convenience.
5 I am sure you understand _____ at not being able to attend the conference.

/5

5 You have recently enrolled on a course and you are disappointed with the service. Write an email of complaint stating:

- why you are writing.
- what the problems were (e.g. the materials, the teaching, the support, the qualifications offered, etc.).
- what the desired outcomes are.

Write 200–260 words.

/15

Total: /40