Unusual friendships

Three readers tell us about unusual friendships and why they are special.

Chen (27)
Simon is the same age as me, but we're from opposite sides of the world. Actually, I've never met him in person, but we chat online all the time. We got to know each other while we were playing video games. I mentioned that I wanted to improve my English and he suggested practising with him. I was a bit nervous at first because I'd never done a video call with a stranger before. However, we realised we had a lot in common and not just video games. Now we talk about three times a week and I'm making good progress with my English. He's also helped me figure out some issues at work. It's not always easy to express myself in English, but Simon's very patient and he never speaks over me. If I hadn't met him, I don't know who I'd have spoken to about my worries.

Iris (24)
Sally is sixty-two so I'm much younger than her. Once somebody made a comment about our age difference. They thought she was my mum! It doesn't bother either of us, though, because we've got such a good relationship. We're employed in the same company and we started chatting in the cafeteria one lunchtime. I realised I had more in common with her than people of my own age. Most of my friends are more interested in nightlife at the weekend, but I've never been into that. Like me, Sally enjoys walking so we usually go hiking in the hills. We make the most of the peace and quiet to disconnect from our busy lives in the city. It's also a good chance to hear some of Sally's extraordinary stories about her life. I definitely wouldn't have learnt so much about the world if I hadn't met her.

Rufina (37)
Penelope is just a little bit older than me and she lives in one of the wealthier areas of town. The funny thing is, I'm from a more run-down area, so you wouldn't think we have much in common. I got to know her after meeting her at the cinema. Actually, she spilt my drink when she was sitting down next to me, which gave us something to talk about. She felt really guilty so, after the film, she offered to buy me another drink. We started chatting and we discovered that we've both got a lifelong passion for classic films. Now we get together once a fortnight and have a night out together. I really look forward to our nights out because I feel so comfortable around her. It doesn't matter that our lives are so different.
