Unusual friendships

Three readers tell us about unusual friendships and why they are special.

CHEN (27)

Simon's the same age as me, but we're from opposite sides of the world. Actually, I've never met him in person, but we chat online all the time. We got to know each other while we were playing video games. I mentioned that I wanted to improve my English and he suggested practising with him. We realised we had a lot in common and not just video games. Now we talk about three times a week and I'm making good progress with my English. He's also helped me figure out some issues at work. If I hadn't met him, I don't know who I'd have spoken to about my worries.

IRIS (24)

Sally is sixty-two so I'm much younger than her. Once somebody thought she was my mum! That doesn't bother either of us though. We're employed in the same company and started chatting in the cafeteria one lunchtime. Most of my friends are more interested in nightlife at the weekend, but I've never been into that. Like me, Sally enjoys walking so we usually go hiking in the hills. It's also a good chance to hear some of Sally's extraordinary stories about her life. I definitely wouldn't have learnt so much about the world if I hadn't met her.

RUFINA (37)

Penelope is just a little bit older than me. She lives in one of the wealthier areas of town and I'm from a more run-down area, so you wouldn't think we have much in common. I got to know her after meeting her at the cinema. Actually, she spilt my drink when she was sitting down next to me, which gave us something to talk about. She felt really guilty so, after the film, she offered to buy me another drink. We started chatting and discovered that we've both got a lifelong passion for classic films. Now we get together once a fortnight. I really look forward to our nights out because I feel so comfortable around her.

4 Read the text again. Are the statements True (T) or False (F)?
