SPEAKING
Ex 1
1 What do you dream about doing in the future?
2 Why do some people struggle with learning a language?
3 How often do you tidy up your bedroom?
4 What possessions could you do without?

Ex 2
Example answers:
1 (What do you dream about doing in the future?)
I dream about having a little holiday home in the countryside.

© 2023 Pearson PHOTOCOPIABLE

2 (Why do some people struggle with learning a language?)
I think it's because you have to think in a different way.
3 (How often do you tidy up your bedroom?)
I have to tidy it up every day because it's always a mess.
4 (What possessions could you do without?)
I could probably do without my old records because I never listen to them.

Ex 3
Example answer:
The picture shows a man and a woman and it looks like they're in a shop. I can see furniture and other things for the house. The woman's looking at a piece of furniture which is made of wood. She's opened one of the drawers. Maybe she's thinking it would look nice in her bedroom. I think the man is her husband and he's looking at something else. I'm not sure what it is, but he might be thinking about what he could do with it.

To: Rashid
Subject: Walk in the countryside

Hi Rashid,

Thanks for the invitation, but I'm afraid this Saturday isn't convenient for me. I'm doing something else then. Perhaps we could arrange it for another weekend instead? I'm free most Saturdays and Sundays. Let me know what you think.

Cheers,
Pete

SPEAKING

Ex 1

1 Have you taken up any new sports in the last year?
2 Do you prefer to put off difficult jobs?
3 Do you think it's better to avoid arguments?
4 How do you feel about people who drop litter?

Ex 2

Example answers:
1 (Have you taken up any new sports in the last year?)
Not really. I took up jogging last year, but I haven't done it for ages.
2 (Do you prefer to put off difficult jobs?)
Definitely. I get quite stressed in difficult situations so I prefer to avoid them.
3 (Do you think it's better to avoid arguments?)
It's probably better, but I tend to argue a lot.
4 (How do you feel about people who drop litter?)
It really annoys me because it's bad for the environment.

Ex 3

Example answer:
In this picture, I can see three people. It looks like some parents who are talking to their son. I think they're in the boy's bedroom and there's a desk with a computer. There's also a bowl of snacks on the desk. The boy is sitting down and his parents are standing up. I think the parents are in a bad mood and they're probably blaming the boy for behaving badly. Maybe he's been playing computer games too much or perhaps he hasn't done his homework.

1 What are you looking forward to doing this year?
2 Do you find it hard to stick to your goals?
3 Which friends do you feel most comfortable being with?
4 Why do some people ignore public announcements?

Ex 2

Example answers:
1 (What are you looking forward to doing this year?)
I'm looking forward to going on holiday in the summer.
2 (Do you find it hard to stick to your goals?)
It depends on the goals. I find it hard to stick to my work goals sometimes.
3 (Which friends do you feel most comfortable being with?)
I probably feel most comfortable being with my friend Mark because he's very relaxed.
4 (Why do some people ignore public announcements?)
I suppose it's because they aren't interested in the announcement or they know what it's going to say.

Ex 3

Example answer:
I can see two people in this picture. There's an older woman on the left who's wearing glasses. There's a younger woman sitting next to her. I think she's the older woman's granddaughter. They're sitting close together and they're hugging. The granddaughter is holding a small box, which could be gold or silver. There's a necklace in it and it looks very pretty. I think the necklace belonged to the grandmother and she's giving it to her granddaughter. The granddaughter is probably smiling because the present is very special. Her grandmother is happy because it's a special moment for her, too.

Ex 6

Example answer:
Dear Ms Kerr,

I am applying for the job as a tour guide with your company.

I am very interested in this job. Your company looks like a good place to work and it has excellent feedback on your website. I am looking for new opportunities with a company like yours.

I believe I am a good candidate because

- I have a background in tourism with many years of experience.
- I am friendly, reliable and independent.
- I have a B1 level of English and I speak French fluently.

I have three questions: Is it necessary to have my own transport or will you provide that? Will I get a permanent contract? Do I need to wear a uniform?

I look forward to discussing my application with you.

Best wishes,
Marion Duchamp

SPEAKING

Ex 1

1 Are there many opportunities for work where you live?
2 How do you handle difficult situations at work or school?
3 Have you got anything important you need to do today?
4 Would you rather work indoors or outdoors?

Ex 2

Example answers:
1 (Are there many opportunities for work where you live?)
I think so. I live in a big city so there are lots of different types of jobs available.
2 (How do you handle difficult situations at work or school?)
It depends on the problem, but I usually talk to my friends or colleagues and ask them for suggestions.
3 (Have you got anything important you need to do today?)
I need to make a dentist's appointment this afternoon because my tooth hurts.
4 (Would you rather work indoors or outdoors?)
In the summer, I'd rather work outdoors, but in the winter, I'd prefer to work indoors!

Ex 3

Example answer:
The picture shows two people standing in a pharmacy. One of the women works in the pharmacy because she's wearing a white uniform. The other woman is probably the customer. I think the customer has asked the assistant for advice and the assistant is showing her some medicine. She looks quite young so I don't know if she's in charge of the pharmacy. Maybe she's a pharmacy student and she has a part-time job to get some experience. She looks enthusiastic so she probably enjoys working with people.

1 wonderfully 2 dramatically 3 powerful 4 intelligently

Ex 6
Example answer:
The Age of Stupid
The Age of Stupid is a 2009 film directed by Franny Armstrong and shot in seven different countries. It won several awards for best documentary film.

Set in the year 2055, it tells the story of a world which has been destroyed by climate change. It stars Pete Postlethwaite as a man who looks after a library of the world's art and knowledge. During the film, we see him looking through old news reports about climate change. Interestingly, the footage is taken from real-life programmes. As he watches it, he tells a powerful story of how things went wrong for the planet.

Although slow in places, the director uses documentary footage intelligently to make the story come to life. By the end, I felt guilty about my bad habits like flying. I am sure you will feel the same way.

Part C

SPEAKING
Ex 1
1 Why do children pretend to be adults?
2 Have you seen any disappointing programmes recently?
3 Why do some people decide to strike?
4 How important is the soundtrack in a film?

Ex 2
Example answers:
1 (Why do children pretend to be adults?)
I think it's a way for them to learn and prepare to be adults.
2 (Have you seen any disappointing programmes recently?)
I recently saw a Sherlock Holmes drama which was disappointing because the actors were terrible.
3 (Why do some people decide to strike?)
It's usually because they're not earning enough money or because the conditions are not acceptable.
4 (How important is the soundtrack in a film?)
I think it's really important because it helps create the atmosphere for the film.

Ex 3
Example answer:
This picture shows two women standing in a big kitchen. It could be in restaurant or at home. I think they might be a mother and her daughter. There's lot of food in front of them, such as fruit, vegetables and bread. The older woman is mixing some pasta and the younger woman is pointing at it and smiling. She's also holding a saucepan so I suppose they're cooking something. In the front of the picture, there's a camera. There might also be a microphone. I think they're professional vloggers and they're filming themselves cooking. They're probably going to put the footage on the internet so people can copy their recipe.

1 Have you ever been in charge of a group of people?
2 When's it important to be flexible with other people?
3 What's the most enjoyable film you've seen?
4 Would you like to shoot your own film?

Ex 2
Example answers:
1 (Have you ever been in charge of a group of people?)
I work as a manager so I'm in charge of a team every day.
2 (When's it important to be flexible with other people?)
I try to be flexible at work because I want my team to be happy.
3 (What's the most enjoyable film you've seen?)
It's probably The Incredibles because it's a fun family film and it's got some funny jokes.
4 (Would you like to shoot your own film?)
I'm not sure because it's probably quite hard. It would be a good experience, though.

Ex 3
Example answer:
This picture shows two men who seem to be electricians. They're wearing special clothes and one of them has a belt with some tools. They're standing in a kitchen, which is modern with nice furniture. It looks like the men are fixing a light. One of them is holding it and the other man is looking at it. I think they've chosen this job because they like working with their hands and with electricity. They probably like dealing with different challenges because every job is different. They probably have plenty of work opportunities because of their skills and experience.

2 I ~~play~~ have played/have been playing in a football team for three years now.
3 I believe I am responsible and ~~freindly~~ friendly.
4 This is an intelligent~~ly~~ documentary about the food industry.

Ex 5
Example answer:
Ghostbusters

Ghostbusters is a film made in 1984, directed by Ivan Reitman and shot in New York. It's a film I saw when I was a child, but it's the best film ever!

The film stars Dan Akroyd, Harold Ramis and Bill Murray as three men who investigate ghosts. After they lose their jobs at a university, they create a company to find ghosts. There are some dramatic scenes where they use their hi-tech machines to catch them.

There is a lot to like about this film. The special effects are great and the set is wonderful, especially when New York becomes the scene for the final clash with the marshmallow monster. There are also some really funny jokes which keep you entertained.

Although there have been various remakes of the Ghostbusters film, I'd far rather watch the original.

Unfortunately, the problems didn't end there. I asked to speak to the manager and I was told to leave the shop. I am afraid to say that your assistant's behaviour was aggressive and rude. A customer should never be put in that situation.

I was reasonable and patient with your assistant, but my experience was completely unacceptable. However, I am

SPEAKING

Ex 1

1 What things do you normally complain about?
2 How important is brand loyalty to you?
3 Have you ever asked for a refund in a shop?
4 When was the last time you had your eyes tested?

Ex 2

Example answers:
1 (What things do you normally complain about?)
I don't like complaining because I'm shy, but I have complained about noise before.
2 (How important is brand loyalty to you?)
I suppose it's important for some products. For example, I always buy clothes in the same shop.
3 (Have you ever asked for a refund in a shop?)
I've had to ask for refunds a few times, usually because I've bought the wrong thing.
4 (When was the last time you had your eyes tested?)
I had them tested last week because I've got problems reading.

Ex 3

Example answer:
In this picture, I can see an old man who is sitting in a hairdresser's shop. The hairdresser's standing next to him and he's holding a machine. He's wearing glasses and he's looking at the old man. In the background, there's another man who's holding a towel. He's got an apron on, so I think he's probably another hairdresser. Maybe he's thinking about his next customer. The old man doesn't look happy about his hair, so maybe it's been cut too short. I think he's complaining about it and the hairdresser looks worried because the customer is unhappy.

Ex 6
Example answer:
Hi Jonah,

I hope everything is OK with you. I'm really looking forward to seeing you this weekend. There's so much I want to show you. We can relax at home on Friday evening, but we can do some sightseeing on Saturday morning. If you want to, we can go out for dinner on Saturday evening.

Unfortunately, I can't meet you at the airport because I have to work late on Friday. I thought you could go straight to my house and I'll meet you there. It's really easy to get there and the best way is to take the airport train. It's much cheaper than a taxi and it's only about a twenty-minute journey. My house is just down the road from the station, opposite the theatre.

Call me if you have any problems!

Best,
Hector

1 What's the toughest journey you've ever made?
2 What difficulties do young people face these days?
3 Have you ever had to live out of a suitcase?
4 Are you used to staying up late at night?

Ex 2
Example answers:
1 (What's the toughest journey you've ever made?)
I think it's when I took a coach from Marseille to London. It took about twenty-two hours.
2 (What difficulties do young people face these days?)
The main challenges for young people are short-term jobs and the cost of flats and houses.
3 (Have you ever had to live out of a suitcase?)
When I travelled around South America, I lived out of my suitcase for about six months.
4 (Are you used to staying up late at night?)
Not really. Sometimes I stay up late, but I don't think I could get used to doing it often.

Ex 3
Example answer:
In this picture, I can see a couple who are sitting on a bus. I think it's a tourist bus because it doesn't have a roof. In the background, there are some trees and some historic buildings. The woman is wearing a jacket and a scarf and the man is wearing a hooded top. The woman is also wearing headphones so I think she's listening to someone talking about the city. The man's holding a camera and I guess he's taking photographs of the sights. I think they're enjoying themselves because they're on holiday. It's probably a short city break and they're finding out about the history of the place.

4 Have you ever had to do a tough job?

Ex 2
Example answers:
1 (Are you easily influenced by advertising?)
I'm not sure. I think it depends on what the product is.
2 (What do you normally do with receipts from shops?)
I usually keep them in my wallet for a long time before I throw them away.
3 (Is it important to have a sense of community in a town?)
Definitely. It's good to know the people who live around you.
4 (Have you ever had to do a tough job?)
I worked at an airport putting the bags on planes. It was very tough because the bags were heavy.

Ex 3
Example answer:
In this picture, I can see a woman who is selling fruit and vegetables in a street market. She's got apples, lemons, carrots and other vegetables. There are little signs next to the vegetables with the prices. One sign says that the food is organic. At the left of the picture, there's a man who is looking at some vegetables, so maybe he's asking about the price. The woman is smiling and answering his question. I think the main difficulty for the woman is that she has to stand outside all day. She has to sell as much as possible before the food goes bad. She probably has to offer discounts at the end of the day to attract customers.

To the Manager:

I am writing to complain about a recent experience I had on the London to Manchester train. I had bought a ticket in advance, so I was shocked to discover that my seat had been taken.

When I spoke to the assistant, he said there was nothing he could do. I asked to sit in first class where there were empty seats, but he refused. I found it extremely annoying having to stand up for two hours when those seats were empty.

I was patient and reasonable with the assistant, but my experience was unacceptable. I am confident that we can reach a sensible resolution. I would suggest a full refund for my journey.

I look forward to hearing from you.

A couple of months ago, I was getting a bus home from work. I was so tired that I fell asleep as soon as I sat down. After a while, a ticket inspector woke me up. He wanted to see my ticket. I usually keep it in my wallet, but I couldn't find it. Funny thing is, I remembered buying one from the driver. I told the inspector that and I asked him to speak to the driver. However, the driver said he didn't remember – at which point I got worried. Things got more bizarre when the inspector told me to get off the bus. Just then, the driver shouted to the inspector. The ticket was still in the machine and the driver had forgotten to give me it. It had all been a terrible misunderstanding.

Ex 2
Example answers:
1 (When was the last time you read aloud?)
I read aloud to my children last night.
2 (What would you do if you heard someone scream?)
I'd try to find out why they were screaming and I'd help them.
3 (Do you ever tag other people in social media posts?)
I don't tag people very often because I don't think it's necessary.
4 (How often do you upload photos to the internet?)
I never upload photos to social media unless I need one for my profile picture.

Ex 3
Example answer:
This picture shows some children in a classroom who are wearing school uniforms. There are some posters and pictures on the walls. The children are sitting at desks and it looks like they're working on their own. Some of them are writing on paper and some of them have also got computers. There is also a teacher and she's helping the boy in the front of the photograph. She's showing him something on the computer so maybe she's talking through a problem with him. I think the boy is using the computer to learn some facts about the world. Maybe he's going to use them to write his essay.

Mario Rossi was born in London in 1973. His Italian father met his English mother when she was studying in Milan. They fell in love and, as a result, Mario's father moved to London. They got married in 1967 and had three children.

Mario's parents sent him to a school which focused on the arts, where Mario started a band. He later wanted to become a professional musician. For this reason, he moved to Leeds to take a music degree. I met him there and we have been friends ever since.

After university, Mario found it difficult to make a career as a musician. Consequently, he taught music in a primary school, where he inspired his students with his musical talents. He also loves playing for his friends, so he's one of the most fun people I know.

2 Do you usually pay much attention to the news?
3 How would you encourage a young person to learn English?
4 How useful is it to break down complicated problems?

Ex 2
Example answers:
1 (What would you do in the summer holidays as a child?)
I would spend a lot of the time playing with my friends and we would usually go to the beach on holiday.
2 (Do you usually pay much attention to the news?)
I used to pay more attention to the news, but it found it too stressful. Now I don't pay much attention to it.
3 (How would you encourage a young person to learn English?)
I would encourage them to do things that they like, such as watching TV series or listening to music in English.
4 (How useful is it to break down complicated problems?)
I think it's useful because it makes it easier to understand them.

Ex 3
Example answer:
In this picture, I can see a woman who is holding a jar with a plant in it. I think she's a teacher because she's with a group of children. They seem to be in a garden and she's showing them the plant. The children are listening to the teacher and they seem engaged. I suppose she's teaching them about science or nature. Learning is important because the children need to learn about these things at school. The teacher has decided to take them outside to teach them because it's more motivating than studying this subject in a classroom. The children can touch the plants and see them rather than read about them.

Example answers:
1 (Why do some people scream at rock concerts?)
I guess it's because they're excited to see their favourite bands.
2 (How often would you go on holiday as a child?)
We used to go on holiday for two weeks every summer.
3 (Which famous person inspires you the most?)
I think it's Nelson Mandela because he achieved equality in South Africa.
4 (Do you ever get together with your old school friends?)
I don't get together with them very often. The last time was probably about three years ago.

Ex 3
Example answer:
In this picture, I can see a woman who is sitting at a desk. She's wearing smart clothes and she looks serious. She's also wearing headphones and a microphone and she's using a computer. In the background, there's another person using a computer and there are two people talking. I think they're in an office because of the furniture. There are office chairs, desks and a small plant. I think the woman has to talk to customers, which is why she's wearing headphones. She probably talks problems through with her customers. I think she's motivated by the opportunity to communicate and help people in her job.

However, when she opened the email, something didn't seem right. His username was different and he'd spelt her name wrong. As she read it, it sounded like Robert had some problems. Apparently, he'd run out of money and needed help. He asked her to send him some money for a plane ticket.

She didn't know what to do so she showed the email to her father. As she read it aloud, her father started to smile. He explained that it must be spam. He'd heard about people sending similar emails in order to get people's money. She felt much better after hearing that.

Example answer:

Peter Hennessy was my teacher at university. He was born in London in 1947. He first worked as a journalist, writing for The Times and The Economist. Later, he became a university professor, teaching history at Queen Mary College, London. He became an expert on British history and he wrote many books on the subject. In 2010, he became Lord Hennessy, so he is allowed to vote on British laws in the House of Lords.

I used to enjoy his classes very much. There were only a few students and we would read about British politics and discuss it together. He would encourage us to think historical problems through together. He also used to tell us about politicians he had met, like Margaret Thatcher. I admired his interest and enjoyment, and it motivated me to take an interest in politics.

Example answer:

Both pictures show people who are celebrating. In the first picture, I can see a family who are having their photo taken. I think the young woman has graduated from university and they're celebrating together. I think the two people next to her are her parents. The man is holding a gift for the young woman and they all look very happy. The parents are probably very proud of their daughter. In the second picture, there are two businesswomen who also look extremely happy. I think they've had some good news about their business which they're celebrating. Maybe they've made a profit or perhaps they've figured out how to make more money.
