I was probably making the dinner for my children.
2 (Which of your possessions is (the) most special?)
I think it's an old painting which I inherited from my grandfather.

When I was young, I listened to pop music, but I started listening to indie rock as a teenager.

The picture shows a man and a woman and it looks like they're in a shop. I can see furniture and other things for the house. The woman's looking at a piece of furniture which is made of wood. She's opened one of the drawers. Maybe she's thinking it would look nice in her bedroom. I think the man is her husband and he's looking at something else. I'm not sure what it is, but he might be thinking about what he could do with it.

1 (What sports were you playing five years ago?)
I think I was playing rugby at that time, but I don't play it anymore.
2 (What do you dream about doing in (the) future?)
I dream about having a little holiday home in the countryside.
3 (Why do some people struggle (with) learning a language?)

4 (How often do you tidy up your bedroom?)
I have to tidy it up every day because it's always a mess.
5 (What possessions could you do without?)
I could probably do without my old records because I never listen to them.

Ex 3

Example answer:
This picture shows a family who are sitting in their living room. There are boxes and suitcases on the floor so I think they're moving house. Maybe they're leaving their old house or maybe they've just arrived in their new house. The parents and one of the children are sitting on the floor. I think they're talking about a clock and maybe they're deciding where to put it. A little boy is sitting on the sofa playing a video game. I think he's ignoring them because he's not interested in their conversation.

There's also a bowl of snacks on the desk. The boy is sitting down and his parents are standing up. I think the parents are in a bad mood and they're probably blaming the boy for behaving badly. Maybe he's been playing computer games too much or perhaps he hasn't done his homework.

Ex 3
Example answer:
In this picture, I can see three people arguing in the street. In the background, you can see that there's been a car accident. I think the car in front belongs to the couple. The second car probably belongs to the younger man. The older man looks upset and he's probably blaming the young man for hitting his car. The young man knows it's his fault and he's looking at the ground. He probably feels guilty and he's trying to say sorry.

Ex 6
Example answer:
Dear Ms Kerr,

I am applying for the job as a tour guide with your company.

I am very interested in this job. Your company looks like a good place to work and it has excellent feedback on your website. I am looking for new opportunities with a company like yours.

I believe I am a good candidate because
- I have a background in tourism with many years of experience.
- I am friendly, reliable and independent.
- I have a B1 level of English and I speak French fluently.

I have three questions: Is it necessary to have my own transport or will you provide that? Will I get a permanent contract? Do I need to wear a uniform?

I look forward to discussing my application with you.

Best wishes,

2 Are there many opportunities for work where you live?
3 How do you handle difficult situations at work or school?
4 Have you got anything important you need to do today?
5 Would you rather work indoors or outdoors?

Ex 2
Example answers:
1 (How do you avoid distractions when you're/are studying?)
I usually go in a room and close the door. Sometimes I wear headphones so noise doesn't bother me.
2 (Have you ever felt exploited by an employer?)
Once I had a job in a shop and I was paid very little. I felt exploited so I left after a couple of weeks.
3 (Is it better to have a permanent contract for work?)
It's definitely better to have a permanent contract because a temporary one is uncertain.
4 (Do you think it's/is essential to learn a language these days?)
I think it depends on whether you use it or not. If you need it for your profession, it's good to learn one.
5 (Do you prefer to work with other people or by yourself?)
I prefer working in a team with other people because I like having social contact.

Ex 3
Example answer:
The picture shows two people standing in a pharmacy. One of the women works in the pharmacy because she's wearing a white uniform. The other woman is probably the customer. I think the customer has asked the assistant for advice and the assistant is showing her some medicine. She looks quite young so I don't know if she's in charge of the pharmacy. Maybe she's a pharmacy student and she has a part-time job to get some experience. She looks enthusiastic so she probably enjoys working with people.

The Age of Stupid

The Age of Stupid is a 2009 film directed by Franny Armstrong and shot in seven different countries. It won several awards for best documentary film.

Set in the year 2055, it tells the story of a world which has been destroyed by climate change. It stars Pete Postlethwaite as a man who looks after a library of the world's art and knowledge. During the film, we see him looking through old news reports about climate change. Interestingly, the footage is taken from real-life programmes. As he watches it, he tells a powerful story of how things went wrong for the planet.

Although slow in places, the director uses documentary footage intelligently to make the story come to life. By the end, I felt guilty about my bad habits like flying. I am sure you will feel the same way.

Ex 2

Example answers:

1 (Is it important to tell the truth to your family?)
I suppose it depends on your family, but I always try to be honest with mine.
2 (Have you ever discovered a scheme to deceive people?)
Yes. Someone recently phoned me asking me for my bank details. I realised they were trying to deceive me.
3 (What's/is the most enjoyable film you've/have seen recently?)
I saw a very powerful film called The Green Knight.
I enjoyed every minute of it.
4 (Would you ever take part in a protest?)
Yes, I've taken part in several protests, usually about the environment.
5 (Why do so many people want to be film-makers these days?)
I suppose it's easy to do it now because of smartphones and because you can share your work on the internet.

Ex 3

Example answer:

This picture shows two women standing in a big kitchen. It could be in restaurant or at home. I think they might be a mother and her daughter. There's lot of food in front of them, such as fruit, vegetables and bread. The older woman is mixing some pasta and the younger woman is pointing at it and smiling. She's also holding a saucepan so I suppose they're cooking something. In the front of the picture, there's a camera. There might also be a microphone. I think they're professional vloggers and they're filming themselves cooking. They're probably going to put the footage on the internet so people can copy their recipe.

I think it's a way for them to learn and prepare to be adults.
3 (Have you seen any disappointing programmes recently?)
I recently saw a Sherlock Holmes drama which was disappointing because the actors were terrible.
4 (Why do some people decide to strike?)
It's usually because they're not earning enough money or because the conditions are too bad.
5 (How important is the soundtrack in a film?)
I think it's really important because it helps create the atmosphere for the film.

Ex 3
Example answer:
In this picture, I can see three people standing outside an office. There's a man holding a camera and he's filming two other people. There's another man who's holding a microphone and he's interviewing a woman. The man looks smart and he's probably a journalist. The woman's also wearing smart clothes and she looks professional. I'm not sure what they're filming, though. It could be a live feed and they're talking about some breaking news. They could also be recording something for another type of programme. It could be a business programme because the woman looks like a manager.

Ghostbusters
Ghostbusters is a film made in 1984, directed by Ivan Reitman and shot in New York. It's a film I saw when I was a child, but it's the best film ever!

The film stars Dan Akroyd, Harold Ramis and Bill Murray as three men who investigate ghosts. After they lose their jobs at a university, they create a company to find ghosts. There are some dramatic scenes where they use their hi-tech machines to catch them.

There is a lot to like about this film. The special effects are great and the set is wonderful, especially when New York becomes the scene for the final clash with the marshmallow monster. There are also some really funny jokes which keep you entertained.

Although there have been various remakes of the Ghostbusters film, I'd far rather watch the original.

Unfortunately, the problems didn't end there. I asked to speak to the manager and I was told to leave the shop. I am afraid to say that your assistant's behaviour was aggressive and rude. A customer should never be put in that situation.

I was reasonable and patient with your assistant, but my experience was completely unacceptable. However, I am confident that we can reach a sensible resolution. I feel that a full refund would be fair.

I look forward to hearing your reply.

1 What's the best way to deal with aggressive people?
2 What things do you normally complain about?
3 How important is brand loyalty to you?
4 Have you ever asked for a refund in a shop?
5 When was the last time you had your eyes tested?

Ex 2

Example answers:
1 (Who's/is the most confident person you know?)
It's probably my colleague at work. He's really confident when he talks to clients.
2 (When was the last time you made a complaint?)
I complained in a restaurant a few weeks ago because the food was cold.
3 (What's/is the most expensive purchase you've/have ever made?)
It was my flat. I had to save a lot of money to buy it.
4 (How often do you make a donation/donations to charity?)
I make donations to two charities every month.
5 (Where do you usually get your hair cut?)
I used to go to a hairdresser, but now I cut it myself.

Ex 3

Example answer:
In this picture, I can see an old man who is sitting in a hairdresser's shop. The hairdresser's standing next to him and he's holding a machine. He's wearing glasses and he's looking at the old man. In the background, there's another man who's holding a towel. He's got an apron on, so I think he's probably another hairdresser. Maybe he's thinking about his next customer. The old man doesn't look happy about his hair, so maybe it's been cut too short. I think he's complaining about it and the hairdresser looks worried because the customer's unhappy.

Hi Jonah,

I hope everything is OK with you. I'm really looking forward to seeing you this weekend. There's so much I want to show you. We can relax at home on Friday evening, but we can do some sightseeing on Saturday morning. If you want to, we can go out for dinner on Saturday evening.

Unfortunately, I can't meet you at the airport because I have to work late on Friday. I thought you could go straight to my house and I'll meet you there. It's really easy to get there and the best way is to take the airport train. It's much cheaper than a taxi and it's only about a twenty-minute journey. My house is just down the road from the station, opposite the theatre.

Call me if you have any problems!

2 (Why do some people like taking risks?)
I suppose it's because taking risks can be exciting. It makes them feel good.
3 (Do you mind being with unfamiliar people?)
I'm quite shy so I prefer to be with people who are familiar to me.
4 (Is it better to travel light when you go on holiday?)
You should just take what you need so you don't have to carry a heavy bag.
5 (Could you get used to living in another country?)
I've lived in another country and I got used to it quickly. I think I could do it again.

Ex 3

the man is wearing a hooded top. The woman is also wearing headphones so I think she's listening to someone talking about the city. It's probably a short city break and they're finding out about the history of the place.

They're both wearing warm winter clothes and the woman is carrying a rucksack. Both of them are smiling so they must be happy. There's snow on the mountain, but it's a nice day with a clear sky. I think they've chosen to climb the mountain because they wanted to do something challenging. They've set a goal of getting to the top and they want to achieve it.

is organic. At the left of the picture, there's a man who is looking at some vegetables, so maybe he's asking about the price. The woman is smiling and answering his question. I think the main difficulty for the woman is that she has to stand outside all day. She has to sell as much as possible before the food goes bad. She probably has to offer discounts at the end of the day to attract customers.

This picture shows two men who are walking across a desert. The sky is very clear and it looks very hot there. The men are wearing long cotton shirts to keep them cool. They're walking next to some camels which have got lots of things on their backs. I imagine the men are going to a town in order to sell things, but maybe they're travelling to see someone. The biggest challenge would be the conditions because the desert gets so hot. It must be really tough. They would need to carry plenty of water and they can probably only travel early in the morning or in the late afternoon.

I am writing to complain about a recent experience I had on the London to Manchester train. I had bought a ticket in advance, so I was shocked to discover that my seat had been taken.

When I spoke to the assistant, he said there was nothing he could do. I asked to sit in first class where there were empty seats, but he refused. I found it extremely annoying having to stand up for two hours when those seats were empty.

I was patient and reasonable with the assistant, but my experience was unacceptable. I am confident that we can reach a sensible resolution. I would suggest a full refund for my journey.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Regards,
Andrea Smith

A couple of months ago, I was getting a bus home from work. I was so tired that I fell asleep as soon as I sat down. After a while, a ticket inspector woke me up. He wanted to see my ticket. I usually keep it in my wallet, but I couldn't find it. Funny thing is, I remembered buying one from the driver. I told the inspector that and I asked him to speak to the driver. However, the driver said he didn't remember – at which point I got worried. Things got more bizarre when the inspector told me to get off the bus. Just then, the driver shouted to the inspector. The ticket was still in the machine and the driver had forgotten to give me it. It had all been a terrible misunderstanding.

2 (Why do some people talk to themselves?)
I think it's because it helps them concentrate on tasks. That's when I talk to myself.
3 (Why is it important to speak up about important issues?)
Because problems only get solved when people talk about them.
4 (Do you back up your/any files on the internet?)
Yes. My phone backs up all my files in case I lose them.
5 (What is/was the last thing you downloaded?)
It was some documents that my manager sent me.

Ex 3
Example answer:
This picture shows some children in a classroom who are wearing school uniforms. There are some posters and pictures on the walls. The children are sitting at desks and it looks like they're working on their own. Some of them are writing on paper and some of them have also got computers. There is also a teacher and she's helping the boy in the front of the photograph. She's showing him something on the computer so maybe she's talking through a problem with him. I think the boy is using the computer to learn some facts about the world. Maybe he's going to use them to write his essay.

In this picture, there are two women who are sitting on a sofa. I think they're in their kitchen because I can see some knives and other kitchen things in the background. One of the women is older than the other one. She could be the other woman's mother. She's holding a computer or a tablet and they're both looking at the screen. The younger woman is waving as well, so I think they're making a video call. I suppose they're talking to somebody they know, maybe another family member. The computer is helping them to communicate because they can talk to the other person and see them at the same time.

Mario Rossi was born in London in 1973. His Italian father met his English mother when she was studying in Milan. They fell in love and, as a result, Mario's father moved to London. They got married in 1967 and had three children.

Mario's parents sent him to a school which focused on the arts, where Mario started a band. He later wanted to become a professional musician. For this reason, he moved to Leeds to take a music degree. I met him there and we have been friends ever since.

After university, Mario found it difficult to make a career as a musician. Consequently, he taught music in a primary school, where he inspired his students with his musical talents. He also loves playing for his friends, so he's one of the most fun people I know.

I would like to finish my degree and get a job in marketing.
5 (Do you know anyone with a lifelong passion?)
My sister has had a lifelong passion for tennis. She's been playing it since she was a child.

Ex 3
Example answer:
In this picture, I can see a woman who is holding a jar with a plant in it. I think she's a teacher because she's with a group of children. They seem to be in a garden and she's showing them the plant. The children are listening to the teacher and they seem engaged. I suppose she's teaching them about science or nature. Learning is important because the children need to learn about these things at school. The teacher has decided to take them outside to teach them because it's more motivating than studying this subject in a classroom. The children can touch the plants and see them rather than read about them.

In the background, there's another person using a computer and there are two people talking. I think they're in an office because of the furniture. There are office chairs, desks and a small plant. I think the woman has to talk to customers, which is why she's wearing headphones. She probably talks problems through with her customers. She didn't know what to do so she showed the email to her father. As she read it aloud, her father started to smile. He explained that it must be spam. He'd heard about people sending similar emails in order to get people's money. She felt much better after hearing that.

Ex 6

Example answer:

Peter Hennessy was my teacher at university. He was born in London in 1947. He first worked as a journalist, writing for The Times and The Economist. Later, he became a university professor, teaching history at Queen Mary College, London. He became an expert on British history and he wrote many books on the subject. In 2010, he became Lord Hennessy, so he is allowed to vote on British laws in the House of Lords.

I used to enjoy his classes very much. There were only a few students and we would read about British politics and discuss it together. He would encourage us to think historical problems through together. He also used to tell us about politicians he had met, like Margaret Thatcher. I admired his interest and enjoyment, and it motivated me to take an interest in politics.

Ex 2

1 (Can I ask you what you had for breakfast?)
Yes. I had some coffee and some cereal.
2 (Do you ever buy things that are on offer?)
Sometimes I buy food which is on offer in the supermarket.
3 (When was the last time you had to think on your feet?)
I saw someone being robbed in the street so I chased the robbers.
4 (How do you feel about pop-ups on the internet?)
They drive me crazy so I've got an application to stop them appearing.
5 (Have you ever been inspired to do something unusual?)
I asked my wife to marry me by posting a video on her social media page.

Ex 3

Example answer:
Both pictures show people who are celebrating. In the first picture, I can see a family who are having their photo taken. I think the young woman has graduated from university and they're celebrating together. I think the two people next to her are her parents. The man is holding a gift for the young woman and they all look very happy. The parents are probably very proud of their daughter. In the second picture, there are two businesswomen who also look extremely happy. I think they've had some good news about their business which they're celebrating. Maybe they've made a profit or perhaps they've figured out how to make more money.

Example answers:
1 (Could you tell me where you're/are from?)
Yes, I'm from Lima in Peru.
2 (Are you able to stay calm in tough situations?)
Not really. I usually get quite nervous.
3 (What are the most important tourist spots in your area?)
I'd say it's the Plaza de Armas, which is an historic square in the city centre.
4 (How would you react if a friend shouted at you?)
Most of my friends are quite calm so I'd be worried about them.
5 (Have you ever tried to master a skill?)
I tried to master the guitar, but I couldn't do it. It hurt my fingers too much.

Ex 3

Example answer:
Both pictures show people who are working. In the first picture, I can see a farmer who is looking after some cows. I think she is giving them some food. In the second picture, I can see a teacher who is teaching maths to a group of children. She's probably helping them work out some maths problems. Although they both look happy, they have challenging jobs. The farmer probably has to get up very early and work a lot of hours. She also has to work outdoors even if the weather conditions aren't very good. The teacher works indoors so she doesn't have that problem. However, she has to motivate and encourage her students, which can be difficult.
