LESSON 2

WARM-UP | 5 minutes

(S–S, S–T, T–S) Exercise 1. Books closed. Activate Ss' interest in the topic. Ask: How can Ss earn money? Elicit: doing part-time jobs. Write part-time jobs on the board. Brainstorm with Ss as many part-time jobs as possible and write them in a list under the heading on the board. Then put Ss in pairs and give them 1–2 minutes to discuss which jobs they would/wouldn't like to do. When they have finished, elicit ideas from individual Ss with reasons why and have a brief class discussion.

PRESENTATION | 12 minutes

1 (T–S, S–T) Ask Ss to turn to p. 76 and look at Exercise 2. Give them 3 minutes to do the questionnaire and find out what their ideal part-time job is. Then ask individual Ss to share the result with the class. Ask Ss if they are surprised by the results.

2 (T–S, S–T) Remind Ss about when we use the First Conditional and what we use it for (to talk about the result of a likely or possible future situation). Then write on the board: First Conditional If + Present Simple, + will + infinitive. Leave this on the board so that you can refer to it later.

3 (S–S, S–T, T–S) Refer Ss to Exercise 3. Give them 1 minute to complete the GRAMMAR FOCUS and then 2 extra minutes to read the examples in pairs and discuss the rules. Then go through the GRAMMAR FOCUS with the class. Write the structure on the board underneath the structure of the First Conditional: Second Conditional If + Past Simple, + would + infinitive. Point out that when using the Second Conditional, it is more formal to use were instead of was, e.g. If it were (was) warmer, I would go swimming. Explain, though, that in informal speech it is fine to use was. Then discuss the difference between the First Conditional and the Second Conditional (the First Conditional is used when the situation is likely and the Second Conditional is used when the situation is unlikely, impossible or imaginary). Give an example to show the difference between the two structures, e.g. a Swiss student in December might say If it snows tomorrow, I will go skiing., but an Egyptian student in June would say If it snowed tomorrow, I would build a snowman. Elicit or explain the reasons why we use the First Conditional in the first sentence and the Second Conditional in the second sentence (snow in Switzerland in December is very likely in the future, whereas snow in Egypt in June is very unlikely, impossible or imaginary). Then discuss why the Second Conditional is used in the examples in the quiz (they describe imaginary situations, because I don't actually have time, didn't win the lottery, don't have to describe myself in six words, don't need money, am not super rich). Point out that to give advice we often use the structure If I were you, I would …, e.g. You should wear a jacket. If I were you, I'd wear a jacket.

TIP

Conditional forms in English are relatively easy compared to many other languages as they do not use the subjunctive. It might be useful to point this out to Ss. However, they often confuse hypothetical (Second Conditional) forms in the main clause and say, e.g. If I ~~would have~~ more time, I would learn other languages. To help Ss with this problem, provide sufficient practice and feedback.

PRACTICE | 11–13 minutes

1 (S–S, S–T, T–S) Ss do Exercise 4 individually. Give them 3 minutes to complete the statements and then 1 extra minute to check their answers in pairs. Monitor and note any problems Ss are having. Remind Ss that it is possible to reverse the order of the two clauses, but when the if clause comes at the beginning, it is followed by a comma, e.g. If I was super rich, I would live in a big house. = I would live in a big house if I was super rich.

2 (S–S, T–S, S–T) Exercise 5. Ask Ss if they agree with the statements in Exercise 4. Elicit ideas from individual Ss for each of the statements and have a brief class discussion.

3 (S–S, T–S, S–T) Ss do Exercise 6 individually. Give them 3 minutes to rewrite the sentences and then 1 extra minute to check their answers in pairs before doing a class check. Monitor and note any problems Ss are having. Check the forms and rules for Second Conditional again.

4 (S–S, S–T, T–S) Ss do Exercise 7 individually. Give them 3 minutes to complete the sentences and then 1 extra minute to check their answers in pairs before doing a class check.

PRODUCTION | 8–10 minutes

1 (S–S, T–S, S–T) Refer Ss to Exercise 8. Put them in pairs and give them 3 minutes to write questions about the imaginary situations in Exercise 7. Monitor and check.

2 (S–S) Tell Ss that they will take turns to ask and answer the questions they have written. Tell the pairs that only the Ss asking the questions can have their books open, and that the Ss answering the questions should keep their books closed. Explain that this will help them to listen more carefully. Encourage Ss to give full answers and as much detail as possible. Model the activity:

A: If you wanted advice about getting a job, who would you ask?
B: If I wanted advice about getting a job, I'd ask my uncle because he's worked in various sectors for 20 years and is a very successful businessman now.
Then give them 4 minutes to carry out conversations. As Ss interact with each other, walk around taking notes of what you hear. Then give some feedback based on your notes.

EXTRA ACTIVITY

Invite Ss to share what their partners said.

LESSON 3

WARM-UP | 3–5 minutes

1 (T–S) Explain to Ss that they are going to watch an animated cartoon which will give them more context for the grammar.

2 (T–S, S–T) Ask Ss few warm-up questions: What time of the day is it? Who are the people? What do they do? What is a model's/nurse's lifestyle like? Play Video 26 – Grammar Animation from the Teacher's resources and stop after the introduction (00:16). Make sure Ss understand that they are going to watch and learn about some people's regrets about their jobs.

PRESENTATION | 7–8 minutes

1 (T–S, S–T) Ask Ss to watch the clip carefully and answer a few general questions: What kind of dresses do models wear? Who can't sleep at night? Where do models go every night? Who wants to eat in restaurants? What would Tim the Builder have if he worked in an office? Who wants to go out for a walk? If Charles the Manager didn't work in an office, what would he wear? Play the video with subtitles off.

2 (T–S, S–T) Play the whole video once again, with subtitles. Ask Ss to pay special attention to the Second Conditional.

PRACTICE | 10–12 minutes

1 (T–S, S–T) Explain to Ss that the animation provides more context for the topic of the lesson. Ask them if they can remember any sentences with the Second Conditional from the video and write them on the board. Do not worry if Ss do not remember all the sentences – use the script to read out the sentences with the target language and put the missing ones on the board. Then discuss why the Second Conditional is used and how sentences are formed.

2 (T–S, S–T) For Ss who still do not understand the Second Conditional, use the teacher's explanation part of Video 26 – Grammar Animation from the Teacher's resources (01:17–03:48). If you feel they are doing well and can list a few examples and provide explanation, then you can omit the teacher's part.

TIP

Play the animation for a third time in weaker groups or if Ss really want to watch it. Then pause after sentences where the Second Conditional is. Ask Ss when the Second Conditional is used and how Second Conditional sentences are formed. You can ask them to repeat a sentence, turning the subtitles off, especially where they had problems with a given example.

Alternatively, go to GRAMMAR REFERENCE AND PRACTICE 6.2 on p. 147 and ask Ss to complete Exercises 1–5 individually. Do a quick class check. This could also be given as homework.

PRODUCTION | 11–13 minutes

(S–S) Explain to Ss that they are going to create chains of conditional sentences in groups. Divide Ss in groups of four or five. Give a piece of paper to each group. One S in each group writes their If clause at the top of the piece of paper and passes it to the next S who completes the second half of the conditional sentence any way they like. The S then folds the piece of paper so the If clause cannot be seen and passes the piece of paper to the next S. He/she then uses the second half of the sentence to write the beginning half of a new conditional sentence. The S then folds the piece of paper to hide the last sentence and passes it to the next S. This process continues until each S writes two sentences. As Ss do this, monitor, support and identify problems to discuss when giving feedback. When they have finished, invite one S from each group to read their set of sentences aloud to the class. Then hold a class vote for the best set of sentences.

HOMEWORK

1 Give Ss WB p. 76 as homework.

2 Ask Ss to prepare for a 10–20-minute Grammar Quiz: Assessment Package, Unit 6.2, Grammar.

CONTINGENCY PLAN

Refer to TB p. 76 for extra activities.

TIP

See the lesson plan for Unit 6 Video Worksheets, FOCUS VLOG worksheet, for extra practice of the grammar topic.
