Task 1

Can write emails exchanging simple information. Can use appropriate openings and endings in simple informal emails.

Hi Kim,

Thanks for your email. It was great to hear from you.

I'm glad you're coming to my country. The capital city is probably the best place to find work. You should find something easily if you look in the newspaper for job ads or in shop windows. Also, when you start to make friends here, they may know about jobs available and be able to help you.

There are lots of old churches and museums in the capital for you to visit, but also some beautiful mountains and lakes outside the city. When you come, I will be your guide!

Looking forward to seeing you.
All the best,

Task 2

Can write straightforward, detailed descriptions on a range of familiar topics.

We were on a camping holiday and decided to go for a long hike in the mountains. It was awesome. The sun was shining but the path took us through dense forest so we didn't feel too hot.

At first, I was walking with my best friend, Alex, but I wanted to take photos so I kept stopping. All of a sudden, I realised I was alone. I couldn't see my friends in front of me. Had I taken the wrong path?

I must admit I was scared. I didn't have a phone or a map and I didn't know the way back. Luckily, I saw a small house in the distance and I ran towards it. An old man lived there and he showed me the way back to the campsite.

Unfortunately, my friends were not there. They were still in the forest looking for me. When they finally got back, they were surprised to see me. At first, they were angry, but we all laughed about it later.
