Sample answers and mark schemes

Task 1

Can express opinions and attitudes in a simple way. Can make and respond to suggestions.

Student A and B dialogue

A So, let's talk about the different activities here, and see which ones we like. Personally, I really like going to art galleries. There's a big exhibition at the one in the city at the moment, and I've been several times. How about you?

B Well, I love photography, but I'm not so keen on drawings. But I'm really into music. I've got a ticket for a rock festival over the summer, and I'm really excited about that. Do you like rock music?

A I do, but I also love opera and modern dance. I go to dance classes, and my parents often take me to see operas at the theatre.

B Sounds good! And how about the cinema? I go quite a lot – I love films.

A Yes, me too. I'm not sure about going to the cinema for a special day, though.

A No. You're right. You can go there any time. It's not very special. How about the rock festival?

B Well, it depends what the person likes, but I'd be really happy with that! That sounds great!

Task 2

Can give straightforward descriptions on a variety of familiar topics.

Student A

In this photo, I can see a desk with a chair, a kind of bookcase and a single bed next to a window. The bedspread has got stripes on it and it looks quite fun and modern, so I think it's a teenager's room. There's also a football seat, so I think the person likes watching or playing football. There are some shelves and some boxes where you can put all your things. I can't see inside, but there are some books on the desk, so I imagine the person uses the room for studying – there are some sticky notes on the wall too so I think this person is well organised. There is also a plant so I think this room is quite sunny. I don't know if I'd like to live in the room. It looks very neat and tidy, but I'd prefer to have more photos of my friends and family on the walls.

Student B

Let's see … it's a very light and airy room, very modern. The colours are very bright, red and orange and blue. There's a single bed in one corner, with a desk next to it. There are also some shelves on the other side of the room, with some boxes and folders. I can't see what's outside – it must be a nice day as the room is bright but the light is not switched on. There is a chair next to the desk and there are pens and books, so I think someone uses the desk to work. Perhaps a student lives in the room. There are some pictures above the desk, I think they are drawings and photographs. It's a nice room, very clean and tidy – but I couldn't live in a room like that. There are too many colours for me.
