Three teenagers talk about cooking

Sam

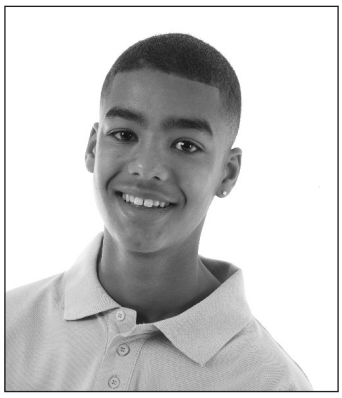

I'm not sure I've got a favourite dish, but there are things I like cooking. My family's from China and the dishes we have can be hard to make. I enjoy trying, to learn the right way to make them, instead of doing the same meals every day. I've got a great cookbook I use, which my grandmother gave me. I sometimes cook for the whole family and they say they like my food – but I think they're just trying to be nice!

Ben

There aren't many things I can cook well, but when I'm hungry I can make pasta, which my friends really enjoy too. I learnt how to make that and other dishes just by watching my mum. But she also showed me the best way to make them. Our family's always been a bit difficult to cook for, because some of us don't like meat and others aren't able to have milk or cheese. But that's OK because I enjoy making the simple dishes that we can share together.

Karl

My family all enjoy cooking and they're good at it – my dad makes great burgers! But I prefer to cook what I like, and sometimes I just put different things into the pan and see what happens! It's not always successful, so I don't share it with my family but I like doing it – and I always eat what I've made. I enjoy making myself a good breakfast – toast and eggs. I'm ready for anything after that!

Questions 14 – 18

For each question, choose the correct answer.

Going climbing!

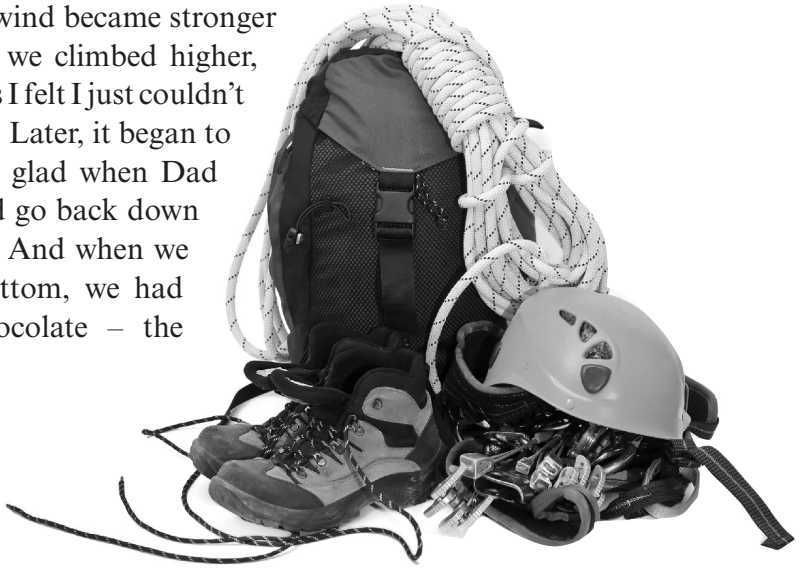

By Claire Green, age 12

As a child, I always loved climbing – trees, walls, anything! I just loved being high up. But what I really wanted was to go into the mountains, so on my 14th birthday my dad gave me a surprise present – a climbing trip with him!

We've been climbing many times since then, and usually go into the mountains near our home. We don't do difficult climbs, but we always want to get near the top if possible. We have to carry all our equipment with us. We usually go for a day, and don't take tents, so luckily my bag is quite light. Anyway, the views are always amazing.

When I'm climbing, I need to think hard about what I'm doing, so there's no time to worry about schoolwork or things like that. Instead, I enjoy just thinking about where to put my hands and feet to stay safe and not fall – and how soon we'll have our picnic lunch, my favourite part of the day! Climbing always makes me really hungry.

We try to climb only when the weather's good, and on our last climb, it was a warm, sunny day when we left. However, the wind became stronger and colder as we climbed higher, and sometimes I felt I just couldn't keep climbing. Later, it began to rain, so I was glad when Dad said we should go back down the mountain. And when we got to the bottom, we had some hot chocolate – the best ever!
