UNIT TEST 5 ● ANSWER KEY

Writing

Can write about everyday things (e.g. people, places, job, study) in linked sentences.
Can use appropriate openings and endings in simple informal emails.

Sample answer

Hi Olivia,

Guess what! I live in a different city now and I go to a new school.

The school is OK. It's bigger than the old one and there are more pupils. I like the teachers. They are very friendly and helpful. There are lots of classrooms, corridors, science labs and a nice library.

My favourite subject is Chemistry. The teacher is very good at explaining things. At the old school I was confused but now I understand everything.

Most of the rules are the same. We have to go to classes on time and must always do our homework. We don't have to wear a uniform here.

When can you come and visit me? I hope you can come soon – I miss you!

Write soon.

Love

XYZ

Mark scheme

The task is worth 30 marks. Award up to 6 marks for each section of the mark scheme, according to the descriptions below.

Marks	Task achievement	Written production and coherence	Written interaction	Range	Accuracy
1–2	May not cover all the content points, or in insufficient depth and/or scope. Lexical and grammatical inaccuracies impede task achievement. Little or no text organisation according to genre.	Text organised at phrase or sentence level. Control may be sufficient for very simple tasks but not more complex ones. Little or no linking between sentences.	Content would have a negative effect on the intended reader due to lexical and/or grammatical inaccuracies and/or poor control of register.	Uses only very basic vocabulary and grammar structures, perhaps with a lot of errors. No complex or compound sentences.	Many lexical and grammatical errors, even in basic language, which impede communication of ideas.
3–4	All points may have been covered, but some in insufficient depth. There may be evidence of paragraphing, but this may be inappropriate.	Text organised largely at sentence level. Possibly some simple and logically-sequenced paragraphs or sections with linking between sentences. Control is sufficient to respond to simple tasks and to complete some more complex ones.	Sections of the content would probably have a positive effect on the intended reader due to reasonable lexical and/or grammatical accuracy and/or sufficient control of register.	Uses basic vocabulary, but largely used accurately. Uses basic grammar structures, perhaps with a few errors. Probably no complex, but possibly some compound, sentences.	A number of lexical and grammatical errors probably evident but not in sufficient quantity to greatly impede communication of ideas.
5–6	All content points covered with sufficient depth and scope. Paragraphs used appropriately for the purpose and genre of the writing.	Text organised and sequenced simply but logically throughout. Linking between sentences throughout. Control of language is clearly sufficient to respond to simple and more complex tasks.	The text would have a positive effect on the intended reader due to good lexical and/or grammatical accuracy and/or sufficient control of register.	Uses a good range of level-appropriate vocabulary and grammar structures. Largely used accurately. Possibly some complex and/or compound sentences.	Occasional lexical and grammatical errors probably evident but not in sufficient quantity or severity to impede the communication of ideas.
